Area gasoline prices soaring

By VALERIE EVENDEY

Whether President Ronald Reagan's game plan in deregulating the price of domestic crude oil eventually will stabilize the cost to consumers is uncertain.

What's certain, so far, is that drivers filling up the tank of their vehicles in the last two weeks have found gasoline going up at an unprecedented rate.

Most local service stations note a raise of anywhere from three to nine cents a gallon in pump price in less than two weeks.

Additionally, as of Feb. 1, motorists in certain townships in Madison and St. Clair counties—those served by Bi-State buses—had an additional quarter-cent added to the five-cent sales tax on each $1 of gas or oil purchased to supplement the Mass Transit fund.

"There's plenty of gas available, so far, and there is no problem getting the product, but it has gone up quite a bit since deregulation," an employee of a local wholesale gas dealer commented Friday.

This company has been buying on the open market since allocations were introduced some years ago as a move to conserve energy, it was learned.

It was learned last week that corporate officials have been thinking about closing the Amoco refinery in Wood River, an action that would throw 630 employees out of work.

Sources disclose that union members were advised last week that a decision whether to keep the plant in operation would be made around March 1.

A rumor to this effect had been circulating throughout the local area plant for several weeks.

It was also learned the Wood River plant is only one of 10 refineries being considered for closing by Standard Oil of Indiana because of the declining demand for petroleum products.

One pauses to reflect that the demand is reduced primarily because people can't afford to buy gasoline. So, why produce it?

Close to home, Johnny Bell, owner of Bell Bros. Service Station at Washington Avenue and Edwards Street, said his cost of gas had gone up 11 cents a gallon since Jan. 1, 1981, including a two-cent hike Thursday morning.

His full service pump prices Friday are $1.45 for regular, $1.49 for unleaded and $1.53 for super octane unleaded.

"I just made a call about a half-hour ago for a new load and there will be no price raise this week," Earl Buenger, owner of O'Brien Tire and Battery Conoco Service, Nameoki and Ponton Roads, said Friday.

"Last week, we had a 13-cent raise on Monday and a three-cent raise on Thursday, but this new load will be the same price," he said.

Buenger noted the quarter-cent increase to 5½ cents on each $1 paid on gasoline and oil products, which went into effect Feb. 1, has added another increase to purchases made at the pump.

"Just think. When gas was 30 cents a gallon the sales tax was 1½ cents per $1 paid at the pump and now it's up to $1.29 a gallon and you are paying seven cents sales tax on that amount," he explained.

Buenger is a keen advocate of

By GARY SCHNEIDER

"I didn't expect it to come quite that fast," Mrs. Diane Stuart, 3149 Jull Ave., commented after giving birth to a child in a Granite City Fire Department ambulance Friday morning.

At 5:30 a.m. Friday, Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) Greg Nighossian and Mark Evenson of the city ambulance service were summoned to the Stuart home and found Mrs. Stuart ready for a quick trip to St. Elizabeth Medical Center to have her baby.

They placed her on a stretcher and put her into the ambulance. Nighossian drove the ambulance and Evenson, attended to Mrs. Stuart. "Almost as soon as we got her into the ambulance, the baby crowned and before we could get around the curve in the road, within 30 seconds, the baby came," Evenson said.

The umbilical cord was wrapped around the baby's neck, so Evenson had to gently free the newborn's neck from the twist of the cord and said that from there to the medical center was a smooth ride.

Afterwards, Evenson did not seem too excited about the delivery. After all, it was his third delivery in city ambulances. Only he and EMT Art Asadorian have actually delivered babies in city ambulances. Asadorian was teamed with Kevin Kietly when he delivered the first in late October.

Evenson's shifts. Evenson is in training to be a nurse and Nighossian is about to complete his paramedic certification. As for the mother, "She seemed pretty calm and made very little sound. It was a relatively easy delivery," Evenson said. The baby was her second.

Mrs. Stuart said Friday of the city's EMTs, "They did just fine. I didn't expect it (the baby) to come quite that fast." The new arrival, who weighed seven pounds, has been named Thomas Joseph Stuart, and mother and baby and father, Tom, are doing well, she said.

Fire probe continues

A highlift will be used today to pull the roof out of the burned-out Gleason's Family Restaurant, formerly George Lindsey's, which was destroyed by fire Wednesday. The building was located in front of American Village Shopping Center on Nameoki Road.

Investigators said they have been unable to gather evidence into the cause of the fire, which caused at least $210,000 damage, since the roof collapsed on the area where they believe the fire may have started.

It will be necessary to take samples of burned items from the interior of the building and send them to a crime laboratory for analysis to determine if the fire was accidental. The fire scene has been taped off by police as an investigation scene since Thursday morning and officers during the weekend chased away several persons who crossed the tapes to view the damage.

KING AND QUEEN. The Granite City Township Senior Citizens selected their Valentine's Day king and queen during a drawing Friday at the township hall and they were

NO INCREASE in pump prices Friday at O'Brien Tire and Battery Conoco Service, 3924 Nameoki Road, where gas prices rose five cents a gallon the previous week. Mark Buenger, filling tank, and his father, Earl Buenger, owner-operator of the full service center, are keen advocates of using American produced gasoline in vehicles requiring unleaded petroleum. There's no sales tax added to gasoline purchases and it's two cents a gallon cheaper than unleaded at O'Brien's.

First town sewer tap-ons

By GARY SCHNEIDER

One business and one home are now using the new sanitary sewers through Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice township and additional hook-ups were anticipated today, since the mild weather this weekend gave several persons the opportunity to dig and lay new sewer lines.

Eight tap-on permits had been issued by the special sewer district by Friday afternoon and a new house on Paul Avenue became the first residence to tap into the new sewers Friday. Pre-Coat Metals was the first business to tap on at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Permits also have been obtained by the Chain of Rocks and Canal Moles in Mitchell, and the remainder of the tap-on permits are to homes. The only portion of the sewer system opened, thus far, is the portion west of St. Thomas Road from Mitchell south to the Bloodworth Subdivision and then to the Granite City Army Installation.

Expecting a rash of tap-ons soon, Madison County Building and Zoning Administrator Paul Hawkins has assigned an inspector from his office to work from the sewer district's office at 4120 Highway 111 in Ponton Beach.

Terry Pemberton will be the county's inspector for all tap-ons to the new system. County ordinances require a county inspector and an inspector from the sewer district to make the final connections of all individual sewers to the new county sewer lines, after inspecting each new individual sewer to determine that it will not leak ground or runoff water into the new sewer system.

Pemberton also has a list of registered contractors which homeowners may use to dig their sewer lines. The contractor must have a Madison County sewer license from the building and zoning department if the sewer is to be accepted for the system. Hawkins says he will enforce that rule.

Residents west of St. Thomas Road may make application now for tap-on permits at the sewer district office. Applications must be accompanied by a $25 inspection fee and applicants should bring a tax receipt or anything showing a permanent parcel identification number for the property. That number will be used for billing and for all subsequent contact with the sewer district.

Those who do not have a tax bill or old tax receipt may obtain their permanent parcel identification number from their mortgage company or their township assessor. Processing applications without the permanent parcel identification numbers will slow approval of the tap-on, a spokesman for the sewer district said.

Obtaining the permit does not require that the home sewer be completed within any given period of time, he said. When the residential sewer then is completed from the house outlet to the new county sewers, the resident is to call the sewer district and request the inspectors, who will make the actual tap-on, he said.

"We hope to have inspectors on hand daily who will be immediately available when a homeowner says he is ready to tap onto the new sewers, so the inspectors can be there within the hour and complete the connection," he explained.

State school budget hits $3.99 billion

Governor James R. Thompson announced Friday that he will recommend record levels of funding for education for the upcoming Fiscal Year 1982 budget — $1.23 billion for higher education and $2.76 billion for elementary and secondary school systems.

The Governor said in letters to the chairmen of the Board of Higher Education and the State Board of Education that while his proposed budget did not meet the full expectations of the educational governing bodies, it did represent "the maximum support possible within the limits of available resources."

For higher education, the Governor's proposal calls for the first billion dollar budget from the General Revenue Fund.

While the higher education proposal represents an increase of $40 million, or 6 percent, over fiscal 1981 expenditures from the General Revenue Fund, it also allows for a 6 percent increase in the amount of state dollars spent per pupil.

With the tuition recommended by the Board of Higher Education, proposed funding level should be sufficient to provide a 2 percent salary catch-up for higher education staff, as determined by the Board of Higher Education.

Security advisor among speakers at GOP Lincoln Day event Feb. 26

General Al Knight, a security advisor to President Ronald Reagan and Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar will be featured speakers at the annual Madison County Lincoln Day Dinner Thursday, Feb. 26, at Lewis & Clark Restaurant in East Alton.

According to Dr. Edward Ragsdale, Madison County Republican chairman, "General Knight will be coming from Washington, D.C., to discuss the deplorable state of our national security and steps President Reagan will be taking to improve this critical situation.

"General Knight is known as a dynamic, informative speaker who traveled to 60 cities in 30 states campaigning for President Reagan last year. He has more than 30 years experience in nuclear weapons and national security matters, having served in the Army, Department of Defense, Atomic Energy Commission and the Energy Research and Development Administration."

Dr. Ragsdale continued, "Secretary of State Jim Edgar will come from Springfield to discuss his plans to improve that office. He is eager to get to know the people of Madison County and to upgrade the service of his office. He has a strong sense of commitment to run an effective, efficient office."

Other featured guests at the dinner will include Republican Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber and Republican state legislators from this area, as well as GOP candidates in the April election.

"The Republican Party in Madison County is stronger today than at any time in recent years," Dr. Ragsdale stated, adding, "We want to build on the 1980 victory to increase our strength at the county level. The Democrats are losing their middle class supporters."

Last November, Ronald Reagan carried Madison County by 7,400 votes. The Republican Party gained among all groups, especially farmers, union members, Catholics and fundamentalist Christians.

"Everyone interested in a strong Republican Party is encouraged to attend the Lincoln Day Dinner," Dr. Ragsdale stated.

A hospitality hour will begin at 6:15 p.m. at the restaurant. Tickets for the dinner are $15 per person and will be available at the door or may be purchased in advance from local Republican precinct committeemen or dinner chairman. Charlotte Longwisch (1-259-2634).

1980 contracts were up 9.5 percent

Major collective bargaining settlements in the private sector during 1980 provided average first-year wage adjustments of 9.5 percent, higher than the 7.4 percent average negotiated in private-sector settlements throughout 1979, according to preliminary data reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Annual wage adjustments over the figures for 1979 in this sector averaged 7.1 percent in 1979 and 6.0 percent in 1980. These settlements do not include estimates of potential wage increases under cost-of-living adjustments (COLA) clauses. About 61 percent of the workers under 1980 settlements were covered by contracts with COLA clauses, slightly higher than the 58 percent for all major contracts negotiated in 1979.

As in the past, 1980 settlements including COLA clauses tended to be smaller than those without such clauses. First-year negotiated wage adjustments in contracts with COLA provisions averaged 8 percent, compared with 11.9 percent for those without such provisions.

(Corresponding averages were 6.2 and 9.1 percent in 1979).

When negotiated wage adjustments are averaged over the life of the contracts, the annual rates in 1980 were 5.9 percent for contracts with COLA clauses and 10.4 percent for those without (compared with 4.6 and 8.0

gasohol, the synthetic fuel produced from grain.

On Friday, he said, gasohol at $1.32.9 a gallon was the best buy for several reasons.

Gasohol now sells for less than unleaded gas, which costs $1.34.9 a gallon at his station, and there is no sales tax on gasohol.

"I believe it's a good thing to be using a product of America, rather than buying all this foreign oil," Buenger stressed.

"There is more octane in gasohol and there's no sales tax on it," he said.

"Gasohol can be used efficiently by vehicles requiring unleaded gasoline. I don't recommend it for older model cars which use regular gas," Buenger said, although he noted that he does have some customers who use it.

"But, they are drivers who take good care of their vehicles and change gas filters regularly."

Buenger also offered some interesting projections compiled by the automotive and tire industry and published this month.

The most alarming was the projection that gasoline will cost consumers $4.01 a gallon by 1990.

In 1960, gas was 27 cents a gallon, in 1960, 31 cents; 1970, 36 cents and in 1980, $1.23 a gallon.

Total weight for automobiles sold in 1970 was 4,000 pounds. The weight dropped to 3,300 pounds in 1980 and is projected at being 2,500 pounds in 1990.

He said 90 percent of all cars sold in 1970 had V-8 engines and by 1990 the V-8 engine will constitute only 5 percent of those sold, the projections state.

Four-cylinder engines will be in two-thirds of all vehicles manufactured in 1990 and sub-compact and compact size cars will have 57 percent of the market.

In talking Friday with an employee of a local wholesale gasoline distributor, it was noted there is no problems in getting the product.

"There is plenty of gas available so far," the spokesman stated.

"Since allocations were put into effect some years ago, the firm has been buying its petroleum products on the open market. The cost has definitely gone up since decontrol went into force about 15 days ago, it was noted.

At midnight Friday, the pump prices jumped at Rich Hutchings Service Station, Niedringhaus and Grand Hutchings, an independent dealer, said he'd had a call earlier that day saying the load he was expecting would be two cents higher on gasoline and one cent rise on diesel fuel.

This cost for gasoline has been going up about two cents a week since mid-January and current prices are $1.34 for regular, $1.40 for unleaded and $1.38 for diesel, he said.

"I don't know where it's going to end," he added not too cheerfully.

Mrs. Jim Starr, whose husband owns Nameoki Standard Service Station at Nameoki and Felling Roads, had heard rumors of the possibility of the Amoco refinery at Wood River closing, but nothing officially from the company.

She said a three-cent increase in prices went into effect last week at the station, four cents the week before and two cents the week before that.

The station has a self-service island where regular gasoline is $1.31 a gallon and unleaded, $1.40. The top premium unleaded price is $1.49.

"We must pass these increases on to the customers or go bankrupt," Mrs. Starr said.

She added, "The major oil companies have contracts with these countries to purchase the crude and must pay their prices to maintain quality and quantity."

"I don't know whether you heard about it, but there is a station in Las Vegas selling gas for $2 a gallon," she commented.

At least one day has gone by without at least one announcement that a major oil company was adding a few more pennies onto its prices.

Experts say that international price adjustments, not decontrol, caused the latest round of increases and the current effects are just a prelude to the real effects of deregulation.

At least one nationally known economist predicts the average price could reach $1.70 a gallon by December.

A recent year or lower inflation rate would keep gasoline below that price, he said.

There is general agreement that most of the recent increases reflect rises in both foreign and domestic prices that occurred before Jan. 28.

OPEC (Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) announced price increases Jan. 1 and some OPEC countries have been increasing their prices since then.

One of the more optimistic opinions expressed is that gasoline will be at least $1.45 a gallon by the end of the year.

Increased production of gasohol and more widespread usage might just be the answer for some of us.

universities and colleges through direct grants, student financial assistance and grants to support health education programs.

For elementary and secondary education, the Governor's proposed budget represents an increase in per pupil spending of 6.9 percent.

"The project increases in local revenues (10 percent) combined with the funding level I am recommending will assist school boards in the state in meeting the challenges facing elementary and secondary schools in the early 1980's," the Governor said in a letter to Donald Muirhead, chairman of the State Board of Education.

The Governor noted that the signals of fiscal collapse from neighboring states were of increasing concern to Illinois.

"The State of Michigan has cut categorical funding for elementary and secondary by one-third and additional reductions are planned for fiscal year 1982.

"The States of Ohio, Iowa, Kentucky and Wisconsin have also reduced current year state funding for public schools. Because we maintained a moderate reserve in Illinois, we have not been forced to take back state dollars promised to the education community," he said.

"As you know," the Governor added, "Fiscal Year 1982 will be a year of limited new spending." He also asked for the cooperation of the entire education community in living within the proposals he will recommend to the General Assembly on March 4.

It was the fifth time in five years that Governor Thompson has disclosed the dollars available for education in advance of his budget announcement in March.

State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill, regarding governor's recommended education budget, said:

"The Governor's suggested 4 percent increase for elementary and secondary is distressingly short of the amount needed by local schools.

"Such a small increase in state support for education would require substantial cutbacks in educational programs for children or large increases in local taxes to support those programs."

"We understand and support the Governor's efforts to hold-the-line on state spending, but the Governor's suggested $90 million increase (actually only $86.7 million above FY 81 appropriations) is less than half the increase needed to maintain high-quality educational programs throughout the state."

"Schools, like all of us, are faced with double-digit inflation. The $186.7 million increase recommended by the State Board of Education will not even meet all the identified needs of local schools."

"At hearings throughout the state, the State Board was told of the desperate need for the state to provide greater support for education. Yet the Governor's budget would move us further away from the Constitutional goal of the state providing more than 50 percent of education costs."

"During the appropriation process, I hope that the needs of elementary and secondary education will be carefully addressed. I am confident that process will show that the educational needs of our children require more than a 4 percent increase in support."

"Our future rests on the quality of education we support today."

that's the deadline for an IRA

SIUE to exchange teachers with Australian schools

Every elementary school has a swimming pool and every teacher gets paid a little more because the schools are administered by the state.

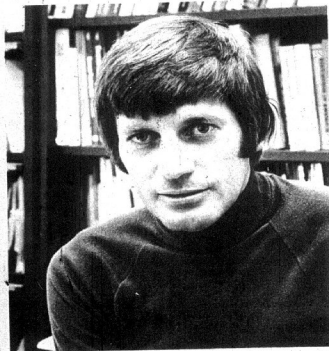

That's the big difference in Australian schools, said education professor Keith Hopkins, but it should be good news to professors at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Hopkins was in Edwardsville to complete plans for an exchange program that will allow SIUE teachers to trade places with their Australian counterparts beginning next summer.

The agreement will swap cultures and classroom viewpoints with Mount Gravatt College of Advanced Education in Brisbane, a teacher training school.

The swimming pools are possible because the country's climate is similar to the east coast of Florida, Hopkins said. He is a native Australian but earned his master's degree at the University of Florida.

Australians have state-run schools because they believe it is a better system than local school districts, he said. "There are no rich or poor local schools. All the areas share in the funds, so the quality is equalized."

Hopkins made the comparisons after brief visits to elementary classrooms in Edwardsville, where he noticed separate reading classes. "In Australia, reading is part of the total language arts program," he said.

In math, the educator saw little difference but said the Australians put more emphasis on non-competitive sports than Americans do. "There are more similarities than differences," he admitted, "but we have common problems."

Hopkins said parents in Australia also want teachers to concentrate on the three Rs despite the fact that spelling, math and reading scores have varied little in the last five years. "Whether it is real or imagined, it is a common issue," he said.

The exchange idea got its start when James Comer, SIUE professor of elementary and early childhood education, took a six-month sabbatical to teach at Mount Gravatt and study the educational systems in Australian schools.

He gained so much from the experience he wanted others to share it, Hopkins said. The return visit to set up the tentative exchange program was the next logical step.

Comer said educators from both countries will benefit professionally by comparing the strengths and weaknesses in both systems and will develop personally by learning to adapt to a different culture.

"You can put someone into another culture, but you don't understand unless you go and live in it," he said.

The exchange agreement is open-ended and will continue as long as both schools see a mutual advantage, Comer said.

$1,000 GRANT from the insurance company of the Aid Association for Lutherans is presented by Phil Whitlock, left, area agent for the insurance company, to Roy Henschen, counselor of Metro-East Lutheran High School, Edwardsville. The gift will be used to help several members of the school's faculty defray costs directly related to additional education workshops and professional advancement.

Local distributions included $11,811 to Granite City, $1,775 to Madison, $1,070 to Venice and $1,050 to Pontoon Beach. Granite City's allocation was the second highest among cities in Madison County, topped only by Alton with $14,110 in fines received.

Overall, Portell reported, a total of $177,698 in January fines was distributed, including $65,941 to the county government, $35,908 to the state for overweight trucks, $330 to the Illinois Commerce Commission and $560 to the Illinois Department of Conservation.

SHOTGUN MISSING

A 12-gauge pump shotgun and case and a cassette recorder were discovered missing from the home of Gerald D. Jones, 2507 W. 24th St., at 10:35 a.m. Saturday. There were no signs of forced entry.

WHEELS ARE TAKEN
All four tires and wheels were stolen from the auto of Robert Pearman, 2181 Benton St., parked at his home between midnight at 8:10 a.m. Friday. A bumper jack used to lift the car was left at the scene. The tires and wheels were worth $525.

Candidates for aldermen express views

Candidates for alderman in four of the city's wards addressed last week's meeting of the Granite City Democratic Club and the remainder of the candidates will be invited to address the club at its March meeting.

The club invited the aldermen candidates in Wards One through Four to speak last week.

The incumbent in the First Ward, Alderman Charles Douglas, told the gathering that he is hoping for a clean campaign and a good campaign.

"I am proud my name is in the paper a lot. I have tried to take the honest and the best position on every issue. You can do things right and so percent of the people will be against you," Douglas said.

He said the First Ward is "one of the oldest and poorest sections of the city" and should qualify for more Community Development money due to "a considerable number of problems."

He said the closing of McKinley School has made it necessary for many children to walk to Webster School and he criticized the school board for poor planning. "We didn't need to build another high school in the first place," Douglas contended.

He said he felt the city could do a better job in curtailing pollution in the first ward. He also indicated that he feels the city should attempt to annex more of Granite City Steel to increase the tax base.

One of Douglas' opponents, Casmer Skubish, a former alderman of the ward, addressed the group, commenting that today, the city has a much greater income than it had when he was an alderman. "Then we had no state income tax. No sales tax. Revenue sharing in come now is a substantial amount. The people are concerned with saving them dollars and getting the most from their money."

"I am retired and I can spend more time on this city. Today, we need more than ever to solve these problems and serve our people," Skubish said.

Major issues he feels need addressed are a better city, more jobs, cleaner streets, attracting industry and business and maintaining a safe community.

Two other candidates for First Ward alderman, former alderman William "Bill" Dallas Sr. and Leroy Mangiaracino, were unable to attend the meeting and will be invited to address the club next month.

SECOND WARD

In the Second Ward, incumbent Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman said he is proud of the job he has done, including ward cleanups, newsletters twice a year, ward meetings at city hall, improvements to curbs and the blacktopping of streets in the last four years.

"For four years, I have served on the finance committee and have questioned almost every item," he said, adding that the decision to self-insure for workmen's compensation saved the city $52,490 last year. "We are looking into other areas," he said.

A chairman of the negotiating committee, he has attended more than 80 negotiating sessions and has saved the city the need for professional negotiators. "I believe we have closed the gap between labor and management. There have been no strikes in five years," he added.

He asked to be re-elected, saying he feels he has offered "leadership which can be trusted and believed."

Schuman's only opponent, Joseph R. McGinness Sr., told the gathering, "My one goal is to work together to see that we enjoy a better city in which to live. Our problems are not unique or one of a kind. The only way to overcome them is to join ourselves together and work for a common cause."

He said one major problem the city must address is unemployment and every effort should be made to make the city as enticing as possible for new business and industry.

"Regardless of who gets elected, we should make up our minds to get behind them 100 percent and work for the unity of Granite City," he concluded.

WARD THREE

In the Third Ward, from which veteran Alderman Roy Poulos is retiring, two candidates remain on the ballot. Nelson Dunlap said he is "from a business background and believes he has many qualities to offer."

He said he would like Granite City to once again become an "All American City," and has been helping, in his way, by working with the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society to prove that old houses can be repaired. "That's where the best investment is and the only place a young person can buy a house to stay in," he added.

More jobs must be found for the unemployed, he said, adding, "People aren't lazy. They want to work."

His opponent, Carl Kittle had high praise for the Third Ward. "I think we have got a tremendous ward—one of the best in Granite City," he commented.

He also praised the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society and its work. "In our ward, we are unique, vital, innovative. There is a dynamic community in the Third Ward," he commented.

"I feel I can represent that element which sometimes we forget about, the quiet majority, and try to make the city what the Third Ward already is," he concluded.

FOURTH WARD

Neither incumbent Alderman Glen Sprinkle nor opponent John Zikovich were to attend the meeting, but Sharon Perjak told the gathering, "It has become increasingly important that the right decisions are made. We need to turn onto a new course, encourage industry, turn business around and set a new course for Granite City," she said.

Her opponents will be invited to address the club next month, along with the candidates for mayor, township supervisor and aldermen in Wards Five through Seven. The date of the next meeting will be announced in the Press-Record, according to the club's president, Paul Fisk.

Under the HUD Section Eight housing program, eligible families will be selected for the project and will pay no more than one-fourth of their incomes for rent. HUD will pay the remainder of what would be a fair market rate for rental of the apartments.

The 92-unit complex will require about 12 months to construct.

South wins 24th District crown

Warriors, Steelers dominate 'AA' tournament

Special to the Press-Record
WOOD RIVER — The Granite City South wrestling team kept rolling here Saturday. The Warriors won their 24th consecutive district championship at Wood River High and the outcome was never in doubt. South and sister-school Granite City North stole the show.

North qualified seven wrestlers to the South sectional this weekend with one champion and six second place finishers. The Warriors were awesome. They had eight champions and one second place finisher.

The Warriors have now won every district tournament they have ever competed in. The remaining three South wrestlers on the squad placed third and became alternates to the sectional. So South has the opportunity of wrestling its entire team this weekend.

"It made it possible for us to win our 24th straight district meet," said Warrior head coach Bill Schmitt. "North's head coach Walt Whitaker was very surprised at the number of qualifiers they had this weekend. I thought six was as many as we could have gotten through," said Whitaker. "So we got one better."

The Roxana Shells also qualified a number of wrestlers. They captured the 98 pound weight class as Rob Milazzo defeated North's Mike Robinson 13-4 for first place. Robinson received a second. "It was our plan all year to have him (Robinson) wrestle at 98," said Whitaker. Robinson had beaten wrestling at 105. South's Chris Cottrell placed third when he beat Cary Hunter of Edwardsville, 5-2. Again was a Roxana man taking the first spot when Rob Warren beat the Warrior's Mike Turgovich, 12-2, at 105. Turgovich placed second.

Gerald Miller continued his success for North as he quickly advanced at 112 when he pinned Roxana's Mike Plummer in 39 seconds to take first place. Plummer placed second and Rich Miller of South captured a third spot with a 7-1 decision over Terry Ohren of Highland.

The battle went on between Greg Garland of South and Steve Smith of North at 125. In their third meeting of the year, Garland took the championship bout 13-2. Smith had to settle for a second.

At 126, it was another inter-city rivalry. The Warrior's Randy Lupardus prevailed over Rob Unger of North 5-4 to win first place. Unger advanced with a second.

The Steelers' Glenn Thompson was forced into a second place finish at 132 as he was pinned by Mark Kristof of Bethalto. Mike Neiber took the other third place spot for South with a 9-4 win over Andy Somraty of Edwardsville.

The Warriors have been so dominating all year long in the final six weight classes and they maintained their strength in the districts. Tom McElroy had little trouble capturing the championship bout as he beat up Todd Newbauer of Triad at 138, 16-3.

Jon Frangouli of South took first with a 2-0 shutout over Tom Williams of Bethalto at 145. The Warrior's Dean Perkins remained unbeaten at 155 as he defeated Scott Corey of North, 6-2. Corey placed second.

It was another Warrior first at 167 when Ken Dowdy won over Jean Edmond of Edwardsville, 5-1. Having already placed third at 167, the Steeler's Bob Patton was able to wrestle back for a higher place. He took second with a 5-4 win over Edmond.

Having only lost one bout all season, South's Jim Frangouli was the wrestler that gave him that loss. In the championship match at 185, Frangouli had built an 11-3 lead before Brian Regna of Edwardsville was forced to default because of an injury.

The Warriors rounded out their clean sweep of the district tourney with their sixth championship in a row at the heavyweight bout. South's Bruce Monahan took a first with an easy 14-2 win over Terry Bradford.

In all honesty, Schmitt thought that his squad was only going to get six wrestlers through the tourney. "I was very pleased we got more," said Schmitt.

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Monday, February 16, 1981 — 7

Warriors take close city battle

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — A word to those who want to beat up on Granite City North's basketball team: Make your hay while the sun shines. The Steelers won't be down much longer.

Granite City South broke away midway through the fourth quarter here Saturday night and claimed the city basketball championship with a 60-52 victory over pesky Granite City North at Steeler Gym.

North, which saw its record fall to 0-20 on the season, looked like a different ball club from the one which racked up the first 19 losses. The Steelers played a smart game. But in the end, it was pressure that played a large part in the loss. "We just don't have that little extra it takes to win," said North coach Bill Ohlenendorf.

"We played well and we played hard. But right at the end, we missed some layups and free throws when we had a chance to get back in the lead."

"But then, we've never been in a game that late before."

In it the Steelers were. Perhaps South was down from its strong showing against Class A power Madison the night before (South lost, 70-60). But whatever, North hadn't looked so strong since its last victory over Highland.

The first game of the Class AA regional in March of 1980. "We weren't sharp," said South coach Don Deterding. "But give North credit. They were very well prepared. They were patient and it paid off."

North's patience paid off time and again with Mike Sullivan getting loose for back-door plays behind the Warriors' defense. "Against our defense you have to be patient," said Deterding. "They (North) just passed the ball and waited until one of our guys would gamble and go for a steal. It worked."

The first stages of the game looked more like a football game than basketball. Errant passing, fumbles, bounces tumbling over each other. Typical North-South stuff. The lead changed hands several times in the first quarter until George Sykes hit a 20-footer with five seconds remaining to give the Warriors a 13-12 quarter-stop lead.

In the second quarter, North took the early lead, but again South came back to make it close. The Steelers' biggest lead of the halfgame came when Rich Takmajian hit a 15-foot jump shot with 5:32 remaining in the second quarter to make it 24-26. But back came the Warriors.

First came an 18 foot jump shot by South's Ken McManus. Then a layup by Jim Choat following up his own missed shot. That made it 34-30. After North's Harold Ohlenendorf made two free throws to make it 36-30, Choat hit a 15 footer from the right side to close the gap to four. The lead went from two to four points the rest of the quarter. A basket at the buzzer by Luehmann gave North a 26-24 halftime lead.

With 10 seconds left in the third quarter, Luehmann drove the length of the court and made a layup, making it 44-41 North, but back came South's Jim Petty, who took the ball and passed from the baseline. His bank shot went through the hoop as the buzzer sounded, bringing the Warriors back to within one point at the end of the quarter.

"That was the turning point of the game," said South assistant coach Mike Harmon. "We had been down four points, and it looked like we'd be down three at the end of the quarter. But Petty hit that shot to bring us back."

"That gave us a lift going into the fourth quarter."

South didn't take charge in the fourth quarter until about two minutes remained.

"I'm proud of the way our kids approached the game," said North's Ohlenendorf. "It's hard to prepare for a game when you're losing like we are. I've been on the other side of it a few times when we were defeated (while head man at Venice). It's hard to get a team motivated. I'm sure Larry Graham (Madison head coach) and Jerry Leggett (Quincy head coach) are having a hard time getting their teams ready."

"South changed defenses the last two minutes and had us totally confused," Ohlenendorf said. "But you know, South's not that bad a team. They gave Madison a hell of a game and they beat Alton. And we still had our chances to win after the switch."

Madison rolls over St. Paul

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — St. Paul (Highland) head coach Mike Curran wasn't really concerned that his team was playing the Madison Trojans here Saturday night. After all, Madison was the only fourth state-ranked team the Vikings have had to face in the last three weeks. Intimidated they were not. The Vikings scrapped all they could, but Madison recovered from a late start and overpowered St. Paul 84-64.

When you have a center that stands only 5-11, your luck on the boards might run a little thin. St. Paul knows all too well about that problem. So the Vikings went to plan two. They used their quickness. They plan worked.

"Madison had a tough time matching up against us defensively," said Curran. "They're good on the boards, but the thing going for us is our quickness. We do have some good shooters."

As their last home game of the season, the Trojans surely wanted to put on a good performance. But they failed to notice that St. Paul came to play. The Vikings took a early 5-0 lead and 13-10 first quarter margin proved it to Madison.

"I thought the players were a little tight," said Trojan head coach Larry Graham. "It was our last game at home and I think they (Madison) wanted to see who could be the hero and score all the points. They were keyed up and wanted to play well. When you don't score, you don't look good." St. Paul slowed the tempo of the game down. The Vikings flirted with the lead for a quarter and a half but couldn't keep Madison at that pace.

"We did a good job slowing the ball down in the first half," said Curran. "But,

Althoff holds off Steelers

By PETER HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
BELLEVILLE — As expected, the Belleville Althoff Crusaders won Friday night's Gateway East Conference basketball game with Granite City North here. But NOT the way they would have liked.

North put on a strong fourth quarter performance but came up on the short end of a 74-66 score. The loss dropped the Steelers to 9-19 on the season.

Going into the final period, the Steelers trailed the Crusaders 60-41 and the Althoff fans started heading for the exits. They missed a darned good comeback.

"I'm proud of the way these kids played Althoff," said North coach Bill Ohlendorf. "They didn't give up. They kept trying. That's one thing about this team — they give you all they've got. I don't like to lose, but if I have to, I'd rather lose with a team that hustles. This one does."

The Steelers got a strong one-two punch from Carl Luehmann and Harold Rody. Luehmann pumped in 16 points and Rody was good for 22 points, mostly from the eight-to-ten foot range.

But it wasn't enough. The Crusaders were led by game-high scorer Steve Hill who pumped in 26 points and grabbed 10 rebounds.

Belleville Althoff coach Al Foppe had a feeling things might be rougher than expected. "I was worried," he said. "I always worry when we play a team that's been getting beat all season. Nobody likes to lose."

Foppe's worries materialized in the fourth quarter. But in the first half, the Crusaders still couldn't put the Steelers away. Althoff took a 16-13 lead at the end of the first quarter, and led by only eight points, 38-30, at the halftime intermission.

But in the third quarter, Althoff appeared to take charge. The Crusaders outscored the Steelers 22-11 in the period. It looked like the worries were unfounded. It would be an easy game after all. Not true. North exploded in the fourth quarter. But it wasn't quite enough. The Crusaders were able to hold off the onslaught and win the game.

Althoff's Bob Tosch added 12 points for his team and pulled down 13 rebounds. With the victory, Belleville Althoff raised its conference record to 4-3 and its overall record to 11-9.

EDWARDSVILLE — There's no way, even if they win their next three games, the SIUE Edwardsville basketball team of coach Jim Dudley can finish with a winning season.

Now at 10-14, after dropping a heart-stopping 69-48 thriller Saturday night at Owensboro, Ky., to the Kentucky Wesleyan Panthers, the Cougars' angle with McKendree powerhouse Wednesday at home and then take on an NCAA division II giant, Indiana State U., Evansville and then close out the season Saturday night, Feb. 28 by hosting the tough Pumas of St. Joseph College of Indiana.

It will be the sixth straight year in which the Cougars have finished under .500. There are some promising items in the Cougars' cagers' future though.

First, it's almost a cinch that construction will start early in spring on their $12-million gym. And secondly, Dudley's squad is a young aggregation without a solitary senior. Back will be their two sophomore stars, wing-forward Ted Smith and clever point-guard, Scott Kabbes. Returning, too, will be their brilliant guard Henry Felton of Springfield (Southeast), who is second on the squad only to Smith with an average of 12 points per game.

Madison's Randall Jones, will be back, too. His 21 points against Kentucky Wesleyan was tops for all scorers. The rugged Jones, after a slow start, has shown flashes of greatness.

In the loss to Kentucky Wesleyan, the Cougars' Scott Kabbes had a last second shot chance to tie it up, 68-69, at four seconds to go. The defeat to the Panthers was the second one-point loss suffered by the Cougars this season. Kentucky Wesleyan beat Indiana State U.-Evansville, 67-60, just ten days ago on the Screaming Eagles' court.

On the van ride back from Kentucky Sunday morning, some of the Cougars cagers speculated that: "If we beat McKendree Wednesday night, would that make SIUE collegiate champion of St. Louis since the Bears beat both St. Louis University and the University of Missouri, St. Louis And, of course, we (SIUE) split with UMKC."

Of course, of all the losses they suffered during this season, the one at McKendree (45-68) midway through the campaign had to be the most galling to the Cougars. They tied McKendree by ten points (33-23) at the half.

'Officer Friendly' game set Feb. 6

The ninth annual "Officer Friendly" benefit basketball game will be contested between Granite City police officers and firefighters at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 26, in Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City High School South.

Although the Big Red All-Stars will be missing from this year's lineup, the renewal of the keen rivalry between policemen and firemen, plus the latter department's emergency medical technicians, will provide some "bruising action for patrons."

Officer Friendly Fred Hoffman promises. Proceeds from the traditional game are used to finance equipment and fees for athletic squads sponsored by the police department's Officer Friendly youth program.

Tickets, costing $2 each, which will admit one adult or two children under 12 years of age, may be obtained from police officers, firemen or at their department headquarters.

The last time the two departments met was in 1976 when they battled into overtime before the firefighters claimed the Mayor's Cup, which is awarded the winning team in the intra-city championship.

The cup was donated by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and is inscribed with the name of the winning team and the year.

GC South gives Madison all it can handle

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — It was just too good to be true. Through the course of their season, the Granite City South Warriors have proved they could hang in a game with even the toughest opponent. But that's as far as they got.

South had its hands full here Friday with the number one ranked Class A (small school) team in the area, the Madison Trojans. Holding on to a 70-60 victory, the Trojans might have thought they were the ones with the problem.

The Warriors knew what they were up against. They knew Madison had racked a very strong East St. Louis team for 104 points in a ten-point win earlier this season. They knew the Trojans were 19-1. South realized the situation, but that didn't stop the Warriors from forcing Madison to play the Warriors' game.

"I knew what they (Madison) had done in the past," said South head coach Don Deterding. "The kids just accepted the challenge. And the Warriors didn't back down."

South's Eric Waltenberger wasn't about to let Madison's reputation bother him. "I always seem to get up for a game against a team that's a hell of a lot better than us and is supposed to blow us out," said Waltenberger. "I was nervous about playing Madison, but I had set my goals before the game. They weren't going to get 100 points, they weren't going to get any dunks and they weren't going to embarrass us. They didn't."

What Madison got was a fight. "We wanted to set the tempo of the game," said Deterding. "We certainly didn't want to get into a running game with them." South controlled the pace of the contest and relied on some hot shooting by Ken McManus and a strong inside game from Waltenberger to keep the score close.

McManus drilled in four buckets without a miss in the first quarter as South pulled out to its biggest margin of the game at six points. McManus finished the game with 13 points.

The Warriors' hot shooting could last, even though they did hit just under 50 percent from the floor in the first half. Mark Madgett's basket, in the second quarter gave Madison the lead for only the third time.

The momentum was beginning to shift and a 40 foot bomb with three seconds left in the third quarter by Charles Claggett put the Trojans in the driver's seat.

"At least they (Madison) had to work against our defense," said Deterding. Joe Schenke made sure of that as he picked off four Trojan passes and helped convert them into points. "Schenke is the unsung hero on this team. He doesn't shoot much, but he really stabilizes our defense."

Looking at the box score, third quarter action may have seemed to be defensive struggle. Actually, it was an offensive failure. Madison won the period 10-7, but neither team could buy a basket. "It was terrible basketball on both sides," said Deterding. "The only encouraging thing about that quarter is that they were getting only one shot and we were getting the rebound."

It should have been said that Waltenberger was getting the rebounds. He knocked heads with Morris Hughes, Claggett and Mark Zarr with reckless abandon. Crashing the boards for 10 rebounds, he was dropping in shots with hands over the rim. Responsible for nine of South's 19 fourth quarter points, Waltenberger kept the Warriors close. He finished the game with 21 points. George Sykes was the other Warrior in double figures with 10.

"I felt the same way going into this game like I did when we played Alton (South won 80-75)," said Waltenberger. "We hit the boards well and kept us in the game. You look at our record and look at theirs and I think we held our own. Madison is a very good team."

But Waltenberger couldn't do it all. South couldn't handle the Trojan front line.

Hughes held his own against Waltenberger on the boards and pulled down 11 rebounds. He scored 10 points. Zarr also had 10 points. Pat Hatter was held under his 20 point average with 11.

Claggett came through with a good second half and led the Trojans with 15 points. "The only thing we have to be ashamed of, if you want to call it ashamed, is that we lost," said Deterding.

"What's even more frustrating is that we were so close and had the opportunity. We just can't get over the hump. The kids gave me everything they've got."

Blythe has good background

By DEB FRUEND
of the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — She began playing basketball in the seventh grade back home in Indiana. She won the most valuable player award five years in high school and college. She just broke the SUE record for the most points scored in a single game. Her name? Susan Blythe, junior star on the basketball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Cougar's co-captain scored 35 points against MacMurray College in the SUE victory earlier this month. Blythe broke the record by one point as the co-captain. Denise Schaake, had set the record at 34 points earlier in the season.

"Susan just played an outstanding game against MacMurray. She was strong on both offense and defense. We used the fast break a lot, which Susan and teammate Nancy Swain work quite well," commented SUE Coach Wendy Hedberg.

Blythe transferred from Vincennes University in Vincennes, Ind. The junior transfer student played forward for Vincennes for two years, where she won the most valuable player award both years and averaged four rebounds per game. She averaged nine points per game with a 76 percent free throw average and 49 percent from the field.

"Susan has adjusted well to playing the guard position and shows a lot of hustle; she always comes through for us," said the SUE assistant coach, Jo Brooks. Blythe played a forward position before coming to SUE. "I thought I wouldn't like the guard position because you get a lot more hassle with handling the ball, but it's okay. I like drawing the defense out so we can work the ball inside," explained Blythe.

The "double majored" Blythe would like to work in an institution after she graduates. She is majoring in special education and elementary education and would like to receive a minor in social work.

"I probably will start out teaching, but I would like to work my way up to working in an institution. I got interested in special education in high school when I worked in the special education department. The students just seem to appreciate you a lot more than normal students," said Blythe.

The Franklin, Ind., native (where she played Jo high school basketball) believes the level of play in Indiana is a little bit tougher than in Illinois. "I think Illinois is just a little behind us in the ability department. You have a lot of tough teams, but we are just a little bit tougher," said Blythe.

"I would like for the Cougars to have at least a .500 season and really do well at the state tournament in early March. I feel if the team keeps coming and plays like we are now, we have a good chance at the tournament," predicted Blythe. One thing is for sure, Blythe will be giving it her best shot, which right now adds up to points.

Madison

As he has done so many times in the past, the Trojans' Pat Hatter fired his team up. This time it came in the second quarter. Taking a pass from Kerwin Stanley, Hatter went on the fast break and woke the crowd up with a slam dunk. The tempo had changed and Hatter went on a rampage.

Hatter's stuff gave Madison the momentum. Mark Madgett followed with a bucket that pushed the Trojans into the lead for the first time in the second quarter. Hatter continued with two straight baskets and his free throw to end the quarter capped off a string of 13 unanswered points.

"Hatter picked up his defense," said Graham. "He caused some turnovers and he helped his offense." Hatter proceeded to put on a final farewell show. Storming through the Viking defense, he chalked up 11 points in the third quarter and a game-high 22.

"You can't play catch-up with Madison," said Curran. "They are an awfully good shooting team when you start to run with them. We just had to put the ball in the basket in that second quarter and we didn't and they did. The rest of the game we played them even up."

A five minute falter cost St. Paul. After winning the first quarter, the Viking only lost four points in the third and six in the fourth. And it was ironic that their free throw shooting, which kept them in respectable distance late in the game, put them behind in the early going.

"We missed five front ends of bonus free throw attempts in the first half," said Curran. "Normally we are half-way decent free throw shooters." St. Paul proved it in the second half when it hit 14 out of 17 attempts. It was just too late, though.

Child support program working

Governor James R. Thompson has reported that the Illinois Department of Public Aid collected more than $1.35 million in child support payments in January, 23 percent more than a year ago.

"The improved collection rate is encouraging," Thompson said. "These collections lower the cost of welfare programs for the taxpayers. The department will continue to pursue new means of increasing collections."

In January, 1980, the Bureau of Child Support in the Department collected $1,100,000 in payments, compared with $1,353,000 in January, 1981. Ordinarily, periods of high unemployment, like the one presently being experienced, are low collection periods.

Thompson attributed the recent successes to such factors as increased public support for child enforcement programs, a get-tough stance in the courts and use of collection methods similar to those utilized in the private sector.

The Governor said that Chief Circuit Court Judge Harry Comerford's plan to centralize all Cook County paternity and child support cases should bring added collections.

Child support payments are collected by the Department's Bureau of Child Support from absent parents located by the Bureau.

The Bureau of Child Support in the Department locates absent parents and collects child support payments from individuals whose dependents are receiving public assistance.

Identical services are available, at a fee, for individuals not receiving public aid. The Bureau's activities are coordinated closely with state's attorneys' offices in the state and nationwide with child support agencies.

Mr. and Mrs. David Head

Head-Portell

Miss Martha Ann Portell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Portell, of Granite City, became the bride of David Head, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Head, on Dec. 27 at the Third Baptist Church.

Poinsettias and Christmas decorations adorned the altar and white bows and candles marked each pew for the double ring ceremony performed at 4 p.m. by the Rev. Michael Bates.

A selection of nuptial music was provided by guitarist, Larry Haggy and Kay Sykes furnished traditional wedding songs.

For her wedding, the bride chose her sister's wedding gown, a formal A-line style dress, fashioned of white chiffon over taffeta.

She wore a lace cap to hold in place a long cathedral veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade of white silk roses, baby's breath and white velvet accents.

Attending the bride were Miss Leslie Roberts, Mrs. Deborah Larson, a sister of the bride, and Jo Ann Davis, the groom's sister.

All attendants were gownned alike in giana burgundy gowns designed with empire bodices, ruffled scoop necklines and long tapered sleeves.

They held bouquets of white and burgundy silk flowers intermingled with baby's breath and white velvet ribbon.

Jennifer Davis and Kenneth Watts served as flower girl and ringbearer, respectively.

She wore a frock identical in style to the bride and she carried a basket of burgundy petals.

Tracy Bauer attended the guest book and also served as a candlelighter along with Steven Larsen, a brother-in-law of the bride.

The groom chose Chris Batsen as best man. Rich Demock and Dale Portell, a brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Bruce Davis, a brother-in-law of the groom, and Michael Portell, another brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the Moose Lodge following the service. Mr. and Mrs. Head, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Ravennell's Restaurant.

Both young people graduated from South High School. The former Miss Portell is employed at Gateway Federal Credit Union in St. Louis, and her husband works at International Mills Service.

They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to the Lodge of the Four Seasons in Missouri.

Mrs. and Mrs. Frederick Dorris

Dorris-Mueller

Miss Martha Ann Mueller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mueller, 720 Layton Road, and Frederick Paul Dorris, son of Mrs. Rita Dorris, 300 Bend Road, and the late Frank Dorris Sr., were united in marriage on Aug. 30 at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Father Conrad Motola officiated at the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Wedding music included "Sunrise, Sunset," "The Wedding Song," and "Ave Maria."

The former Miss Mueller wore a long Chantilly lace gown designed with a Queen Anne neckline, bishop sleeves and floor length skirt which extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, red rose buds and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Rita Fiedler, a sister of the groom, and bridesmaids included Mrs. Mary Rhoades and Mrs. Janice Dora, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Joan Mueller and Mrs. Helen Mueller, the bride's sisters-in-law.

They were attired in identically styled floral print gowns in rainbow colors.

Each attendant held baskets of pastel color blossoms and they wore a floral headpiece.

Bonnie and Scott Mueller, a niece and nephew of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer.

She was dressed in a frock similar to the adult attendants and she also carried a basket of flowers. The groom chose his brother, Frank Dorris, as best man. Bill Dorris, another brother, Jim Schroeder, Robert, Eugene and Charles Mueller, brothers of the bride, and Jerry Fiedler, the groom's brother-in-law, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Cindy and Ann Dorris, sisters-in-law of the groom, attended the guest book.

A reception was held at Croatian Home and the rehearsal dinner was served at Engelbert Hall.

The bride is a Madison High School graduate and also graduated from Bellevue Area College. She is now employed as a computer operator at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Her husband was graduated from Assumption High School and Bailey Technical School and now works as a diesel mechanic for Dome Railway.

The newlywed couple honeymooned at Branson, Mo.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, an international cultural and social organization, this year is celebrating the 50th anniversary of its founding. There are five active chapters of the sorority in Granite City—Preceptor Beta Gamma, Xi Epsilon Chi, Nu Zeta, Pi Eta and Theta Theta.

Beta Sigma Phi has chapters throughout the free world with a total membership of 248,000 women. In observance of the golden anniversary year, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler signed a proclamation which reads in part:

"Whereas, Beta Sigma Phi is an international organization created for women in search of culture and social activity, and it gives its members an intimate touch with many lives and many minds.

"Whereas, to many of us, Beta Sigma Phi is a way of life. And in the adventure which is life itself, we have the power to shape our lives, a chance to serve others and to grow.

"Now, therefore, I, Paul Schuler, Mayor of the City of Granite City, Illinois, do hereby proclaim this year at Beta Sigma Phi's Golden Anniversary Year in the city of Granite City."

The sorority was formed in 1931 in Abilene, Kan. Chapters were organized locally about 30 years ago. Some years ago, local chapters created a "City Council," consisting of representatives from the individual units.

At a recent meeting of the council, conducted by Betty Beck, president, plans for the anniversary were reviewed. Events will include the traditional Founder's Day banquet, to be held in April.

Several chapters will combine their efforts to sponsor a rush party to supplement ritual of jewels chapters, it was announced. Mrs. Beck also invited members to a "blooming basket" party at her home at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 20.

Clean Air Act to expire; no doubt of its revision

Press-Record Washington Bureau — The Clean Air Act of 1970, a landmark in environmental legislation, is due to expire Sept. 30. No one doubts that it will be renewed by the 97th Congress, but hardly anyone can argue credibility that it deserves a new lease without another round of amendments like those written into it in 1977.

The forthcoming rewrite of the Clean Air Act will provide an early test of whether the Reagan administration and the new Congress can lighten a heavy regulatory burden on the U.S. economy without surrendering important environmental goals.

Mr. Reagan campaigned with the theme that excessive regulation is stifling economic growth and impeding efforts to produce more energy from domestic sources to diminish our dependence on imported oil. The theme was carried through in his inaugural address.

Environmentalists remain concerned that the positive benefits of such deregulation will be gained at the expense of a major retreat from the many fronts of environmental protection.

There is no reason why America cannot have healthy air and water and an attractive landscape and a strong, growing economy as well. What we need are realistic and attainable environmental goals — something that 10 years of congressional effort has not provided. The Clean Air Act and others like it. The problem lies in the vague and confusing marching orders which Congress has been giving to the Environmental Protection Agency.

Robert W. Crandall, a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution, recently looked at the legislation which a succession of Congresses had handed onto EPA.

"No organization," he concluded, "could possibly cope with the continuing flow of legislation and the detailed regulatory responses required of the law."

The law tells the EPA to see that pollution is stopped by the "best available control technology," or that pollution sources must meet the "lowest achievable emission rate." Who knows what technology is "best," or what emission rate is the "lowest achievable?" It is no wonder that the law is beset with uncertainty about what the next directive from EPA is going to say.

Moreover, Crandall says it is a "fiction" that EPA regulations are based on the best knowledge of the health effect of various pollutants. "In fact, the scientific basis for most regulations is seriously deficient," he writes in the Journal Regulation.

"In many cases, moreover, the regulators are not using even the information available or are not using it systematically." Finally, the monitoring of pollution is so poor that the EPA cannot really tell whether the measures it demands are producing any improvement in environmental quality.

One of the 1977 amendments to the Clean Air Act established a National Commission on Air Quality to study the law and recommend changes. The commission is considered in the 1981 overhaul now set to begin.

The recommendations of the bi-partisan commission are not due until March 1, but it has reported already that many sections are unduly complex and that there is a substantial duplication of anti-pollution effort by federal, state and local agencies. That's a clue to the task confronting Congress.

Our environmental laws should be based on a consensus of scientific thinking on what constitutes a pollution danger. They should spell out goals and standards which demonstrated technology can be expected to attain.

To rewrite the Clean Air Act and others with such guidelines in mind would not be a simple task. It would simply assure that the troops are shooting at targets they can see.

Budget chief not a villain despite all the melodrama

Reprinted by permission of the Washington Star — Whatever eventually befalls the 1982 foreign aid budget — and its fate will not be known finally until Congress passes and Mr. Reagan signs an appropriation bill many months hence — this usually sexless issue has lately demonstrated a surprising potential for melodrama.

We have in mind the recent big-headline collision between Director of Management and Budget David Stockman and Secretary of State Alexander Haig.

The issue was said to be a threat from Stockman's axmen of stunningly deep cuts in foreign aid to "heartless economists" at OMB were projecting cuts as great as 40 percent for fiscal 1982.

Sources, all of course anonymous, were said to be murmuring that if Haig didn't mobilize his troops (the budgeteers were trifling, it was intimated, with a secretary's private turf) he might as well hand over his sword to Stockman right now, perhaps being allowed to keep his horse for springing.

By day two of the counterattack, which had begun with the leaking of an OMB memorandum, we witnessed "the rallying of the angry allies," with foreign friends reportedly protesting that if we reduced the World Bank stipend they would regard it as bad faith and presumably to rub in their discontent, might do so.

By day three it was being reported that Haig had "won" the first skirmish — that in a cabinet-room showdown the secretary had argued with his own, gathered around him, halted the foreign aid cut, and even that Stockman was suing for peace.

It is not very sporting, perhaps, to puncture that bureaucratic melodrama that Washington loves so well, but this one comes so close to caricature that we can't resist.

Claims many helped GC overpass

To the Editor:

The West Granite overpass is finally becoming a reality thanks to the efforts of a considerable number of people. Mayor Paul Schuler basked in the glory of the overpass dedication. Put in his customary style, he failed to give credit or even recognition to others who have worked and fought as hard and as long as he for the project.

Mayor Schuler has played "politics" with the overpass project since its inception. Mayor Nonn and Mayor Schuler were supposedly integral members of a committee established to plan and build the overpass. Yet Mayor Schuler constantly kept us in the dark concerning developments and held numerous meetings without even contacting us. Although Mayor Schuler recognized Louis Cohen as an active participant, he failed to mention people like Gene Greiner, owner of Greene's Confectionary, Ena Meyers, former principal of Logan School, or Toby Adams, all of whom gathered petitions, signatures and lobbied in Springfield on their own time.

Naturally, we are proud of our work in pushing for the overpass. You would think the Mayor would have given further recognition to those of us who deserve more credit. Instead, Granite City Steel received praises for its "contribution" and was unanimously supported utility tax. Of course, Schuler also soaked in the accolades for himself.

Naturally, we are excited that the overpass is underway but we cannot help but wonder why it was started eight (8) years ago when action was originally promised by Mayor Schuler. If he had begun then, we would probably be building a four-lane overpass at a cheaper cost. An engineering report stated the two-lane overpass would be completed in twelve (12) years after it's built.

Schuler may now think he is being generous. West Granite and Lincoln Place residents that he has their welfare in mind, but we well remember the constant in walking at the placement of an ambulance at the Rock Road Fire Station. Only after construction was well under way and submission of numerous petition signatures did Mayor Schuler agree to an ambulance in West Granite. Mayor Schuler probably feels the overpass is his political plum, but the people in my area who have the history and will reflect that come, the Alderman.

News notes

The SIU board gave initial consideration Thursday to a 10 percent tuition hike proposed as part of the Illinois Higher Education Board's plan for the coming year. If approved by the university board at its March meeting, the tuition increase will cost full-time students about $63 more per year. Dental students would pay an added $111 and medical students would have a $225 increase.

The annual Variety Club telethon to aid handicapped and newly children Saturday night and Sunday raised a record $483,174.

Suffers head injury Sunday

Roger Tift, 32, of 3099 Maryville Road suffered a head injury in an auto mishap at 6 p.m. Sunday on Edman Road in front of the Granite City Steel Blast Furnace Division garage.

Tift was taken to St. Elizabeth's Medical Center, where he was transferred to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

St. Louis police said he was westbound and apparently lost control of his auto, which went into the northern end of the road, striking a traffic control signal.

Cars hit rail crossing light

Two men were injured when the auto of Jerrie Sturgeon, 21, of 2233 Grand Ave., eastbound on 21st Street, went out of control, crossed the roadway and struck a railroad crossing signal near Omaha St. at 2:30 Sunday.

Sturgeon was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth's Medical Center at the hospital and read the intensive care unit until Wednesday.

"I was trying to find a seat for my father who was attending church with me when my chest became sore and suddenly I began to black out. I didn't know anything else until I woke up in the hospital," he said.

"I think it is a wonderful service the Red Cross is offering in training people in CPR. In fact, we have two classes now going on at Third Baptist Church," Mr. Lynn commented.

Victim of heart attack 'thankful'

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

of the Press-Record

"I am feeling fine and the doctors say I am going home on Monday," Roy Lynn said in a call to the Press-Record Friday morning.

Mr. Lynn, 84, had suffered a disabling heart attack on Feb. 8 while at the Third Baptist Church and his breathing had been aided by two women who were graduates of cardiopulmonary resuscitation training.

Credited with saving Mr. Lynn's life are Mrs. Donna J. Pratt-Hall of Granite City and Nancy Green of Lexington, Ky., a former resident who was home visiting her parents.

"I want to thank you and everybody," Mr. Lynn said in his call.

"Especially, I want to thank those girls for without them I wouldn't be here," he stressed.

"I really didn't know all that had happened until a deacon of the church came to see me last night (Thursday) at the hospital and read the story in the paper to me," Mr. Lynn said.

Following his breathing being restored by the two women, he had been taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth's Medical Center where he remained in intensive care unit until Wednesday.

Damage tops $11,200 as 4 structures burn

A fire which started in a garage in the 2600 block of Madison Avenue at 4 a.m. Sunday spread to three other structures near the alley and caused damage estimated at more than $11,200.

The cause of the fire is under investigation and vandalism is suspected, since the fire appears to have started simultaneously in several areas of the garage of Andy Mance, 2631 Madison Ave.

A neighbor reported hearing noises, such as garbage cans being knocked down in the alley and looked to see what appeared to be a shadow of a person. Moments later, the flames were seen from Mance's garage.

That fire totally enveloped the garage, destroying it and his 1977 Chevrolet. New York City damage was estimated in excess of $9,000.

The flames then spread to the garage of Tom Davis, 2631 Madison Ave., causing an estimated $500 damage to the exterior. That fire singed the apartment of Jeff Firog at 2631 Madison Ave.

Grand Ave., causing another $500 damage, firemen estimated.

Finally, the fire damaged a two-car garage at 2662 Grand Ave., owned by Joe Mangiaracino, causing an estimated $1,200 damage before firemen could bring the blaze under control.

Power and telephone lines were downed by the fire, but

GUN IS MISSING

A .22-caliber German revolver and holster were taken from under the seat of the car of George Petchulat, 2810 E. 24th St., after the car was towed by police order from Maryville Road and St. Clair Avenue. Police said the car was stuck in that in the alley and ordered it towed to a holding area. When Petchulat claimed the car, he found the gun and holster were missing, he reported.

First tap-on

treatment, bond retirement, sewer system maintenance and operation of the sewer district will be $1.80 per meter, he noted.

Persons who do not pay their sewer bills may be subject to having their sewers cut off or to having a lien taken against their property, which could eventually be sold at auction.

Residential tap-ons will proceed clockwise until reaching Brandon Heights (old Old Alton Road) northeast of Maryville Road, where pending lawsuits may prohibit further tap-ons.

Residents of Brandon Heights have sued the county, contending the sewers were placed in the middle of their back yards and not in the planned easements. The county in turn filed suit against the homeowners seeking to condemn the easements in which the sewers actually were placed.

A hearing on the condemnation suit was scheduled before Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand but has been continued, the opposing attorney, Donald Singer of Alton, was told.

Since the Brandon Heights line is a main pipe, all of the Mitchell east of Maryville Road, including the Burton Subdivision, Meadowlane, Carol Gardens, Guth Place and Hills Acres, may be hit by the tap-on sewers until the lawsuits are settled.

Singer agreed that the court refused to issue an order prohibiting tap-ons of the Brandon Heights Subdivision sewers, but noted, "The county moves at its own peril and may be required later to move those (sewer) pipes. If there are people tapped on, there could be a heck of a mess."

He added, "The rights of the parties right now are not very clear. The court let it lie in limbo. The pipe is there without legal authority because the homeowners have not been compensated for their land and the pipe is there illegally," Singer added.

Another problem which will probably have to be worked out in the courts is the plight of about 135 homeowners who are in the sewer district but will not be served by the new sewers.

Futch is urging those homeowners to obtain letters from his office, 4120 Highway 211, verifying that the tap-on letter should be filed with the county clerk to be attached to the sewer taxes they have paid under protest.

Assistant Madison County Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith has pledged to file something with the courts to attempt to find a permanent solution to the plight of those who will not receive sewer service, but are paying taxes for the sewers.

Persons involved include those who are already on Granite City sewers and did not require placement of county sewers near their homes.

They have been paying a $10 per quarter (three months) surcharge to the city, in addition to the $13 per quarter treatment rate charged all users of the Granite City sewage treatment plant.

That surcharge, designed to repay the city for past retirement of the bonds used to finance the local share of constructing the treatment plant, has expired and the county will have to pay at least tomorrow night to reinstate the $10 surcharge for those residing outside of the city limits, but using city sewers, rather than private ones.

NAMEK, Chouteau and Venice townships donated $23,000 each for engineering services and grant application work when the project first started. Hildebrand is chairman of the county's special sewer committee, said none of them have indicated a pressing need to have those loans repaid, so it will take years before the money is available.

However, Whitsell said the financial picture for the new sewer district may not be as bleak as it is being believed.

Whitsell said some additional grant funds are anticipated, if the EPA approves supplemental applications, including a $50,000 grant for three-phase wiring for the lift stations, and other change orders. Their is still $169,000 left in the construction fund which can be used to pay some of the district's salaries and bills, when it is released by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, Whitsell added.

"I also believe the grant will be updated. Originally it was for $12 million. Now it might come out more like $13 million. That could change the picture a little bit," he added.

Whitsell also noted that the district spent only $48,200 of the $691,000 it borrowed from the county's highway fund last September, due to a ruling from Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith that the loan was illegal.

He warned that, despite last week's $65,000 loan from the county's working cash fund, the district should avoid unnecessary spending from what he termed "the waste line," which includes a warehouse, office equipment, cranes, heavy equipment, spare parts, a monitoring system and other devices, he said. The EPA will pay 75 percent of the cost.

The planned warehouse, or "maintenance facility," in the grant application (three months) surcharge to the city, in addition to the $13 per quarter treatment rate charged all users of the Granite City sewage treatment plant.

constructing the treatment plant, has expired and the county will have to pay at least tomorrow night to reinstate the $10 surcharge for those residing outside of the city limits, but using city sewers, rather than private ones.

Charge two with theft

Larry G. Sidwell, 32, of 4050 Gaillard Walk, Pontoon Beach, and Steven A. Mueller, 1432 Sixth St., Madison, face state charges of theft in connection with an incident at K-Mart on Nameki Road at 5:25 p.m. Thursday.

Security officers at K-Mart alleged, seeing Sidwell remove a socket wrench set from the automotive department and leaving the store with the set under his coat, without paying for it. They watched him get into a car on the parking lot and alleged he removed the set from under his coat and gave it to a passenger.

They then drove to the front door where the passenger, alleged to be Sidwell, took the set back into the store and asked for a refund for the socket set. The two were then taken into custody and held for Granite City police, who lodged them.

Lawbreaker role for Bruce Dern

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Bruce Dern who shot John Wayne in the back in "The Cowboys" is still at it: breaking the law on the screen.

But in "Harry Tracy — Desperado" (or possibly "The Last Desperado"), he plays a charismatic lawbreaker. His first.

Or that's how Dern sees the character.

Harry Tracy was a real person who, according to the actor who plays him, "was basically a bank robber and a train robber. He was never convicted of murder or rape or anything like that."

"He was the last of the Hole in the Wall Gang and lived well into the 20th century which was his ultimate downfall...."

"He was destroyed by things he'd never seen until he was 35 years old, the automobile, the telephone."

Dern had never heard of Tracy until he was asked to play him, but now he talks like a fan.

"He was considered a Robin Hood by everyone around Washington and Oregon and western Idaho. Everybody protected him, put him up and took care of him except this one very dedicated marshal who tracked him for about nine years and who finally, with U.S. militiamen and employees of banks from around Washington and Oregon, finally took him."

Tracy, Dern admits, could have escaped to South America or some other safety zone but chose to stay in the United States, "because he liked headlines."

"And he knew his era was over. He realized there were not going to be anymore outlaws."

"I think we make this pretty plain in the movie."

Charles Bronson recently made a picture, "Death Hunt," in which he played a real Canadian outlaw, and the production raised the hackles of numerous Canadians, who complained that such a man should not be memorialized.

Asked if he sees danger in the glorification of lawbreakers, Dern says that he doesn't. "I think it's dangerous. But at the same time the anachronistic nature of this particular man — and he's the only one I can deal with — is a study of the end of an era. And that's the reason I was interested in doing the movie."

"He really was the last man who was a folk hero during his lifetime, who chose to have it end when he chose to have it end. He knew it would end at a place and time he picked."

"He took himself out." "Tracy," Dern continues, "was in the headlines of papers around the world for 65

JOHN HILLERMAN
...Acting was the only thing he really wanted days. He was traveling with the daughter of the first U.S. Circuit Court judge in Oregon. She was in love with him, and she chose to leave her home to run with him, though she knew it would cost her her life."

The next Dern picture scheduled for release is "Tattoo" of which he's openly proud.

"It will probably be out in the spring," he says, "and it's certainly the most sensational film I've done in terms of what it says and its uniqueness. It says a lot. It's about commitment and love and full-body lithograph. It says that if you tell someone you love them and that you want them to give you everything they have, you'd better really mean it."

How does an actor live when he's on a long location far away from home?

Sometimes, the answer is, "Like a King."

In Hawaii, where he's a star of the new CBS series, "Magnum, P.I.," John Hillerman is master of a rented house with magnificent views. From his front door, he can look at the slopes of an extinct volcano, from his back lawn, the blue lavender reaches of the Pacific.

BRUCE DERN
...Plays a modern 'Robin Hood'

And if he gets tired of nature's opulence, he can shoot pool or swim in his pool.

Hillerman spent 15 years on the stage, "and," he says, "I literally starved. I taught myself to cook, because I couldn't afford to go out."

"But I always felt that I wanted it (acting) very much. It was the only thing I really wanted."

"And I felt I was good, that I had talent and that, if I could hang in there, I'd make it...."

"I left the stage because I was making no money. That's why I came to Hollywood. I was star at a theater where I'd been working four years, and I had $700 in the bank."

"So I went to Hollywood." And there Hillerman has become much more affluent.

His name isn't exactly a household word, and women don't faint when they see him (a circumstance which pleases him, because fainting women would make him uncomfortable), but housewives do follow him through the supermarket "To see what's in my basket," John thinks.

"It's very strange, but they want to see what I'm buying."

The only real inconvenience he suffered in moving to Hawaii involved his car. He'd shipped his own to Honolulu when the long Screen Actors Guild strike began, and production of the series was delayed.

"So there I was in Los Angeles with no automobile," Hillerman says. "I had to rent one for $500 a month."

Yoko feared assassination

By DICK MAURICE

LAS VEGAS — YOKO ONO has become even a bigger celebrity since the death of her husband, JOHN LENNON.

What's ironic is that it was Yoko who feared assassination for years. Friends say that she is a very strong woman who was instrumental with every decision that Lennon made. As a matter of fact, money people around the BEATLES once planned to kill her because of her relationship with John.

Although their marriage appeared to be the rock of Gibraltar, their 13 years together wasn't one big happy song. She once tossed John out for 18 months. Her reasoning — "Rather than mess in relationships, I've always moved on. That's why I'm one of the very few survivors as a woman."

Admits JOEY HEATHERTON, "When I perform in front of an audience, all of a sudden I become alive. I feel at home. I feel good. I feel like a firecracker and I want to give all my emotions and share all of my experiences. I want to be hot and feel that music. I want to pop. I want it all to work. I'm a bug about things. I want things to really go great!"

LEE MAJORS, "Six Million Dollar Man" and FARRAH FAWCETT, "Beverly Hills Cop," got ousted for killing a buck out of season: Authorities in Fairview, Okla., says Majors, who was supposed to be hunting quail, was accused of using improper ammo and hunting without a deer-hunting license.

Crime doesn't pay. Majors was turned in by a tipster.

LEO SAYER is considering a move to Los Angeles from his native England. The reason? "LA's got the best hamburgers in the world," claims Sayer, who ought to know from his world travels. The British singer, songwriter's recent visit to LA was less a promotional tour for his new album, "Living In A Fantasy," than a whirlwind burger tour which included stops at the city's fashionably sleazy fast food eateries: Fatburger, Fat Jack's, Irv's Burgers and Astro Burger.

But the true highlight of his LA visit, says Leon, was "a teriyaki burrito I ate at Danny's Oki Dog in Hollywood at 3:00 a.m."

As might be expected, Leo hasn't been heard from since.

WAYLON JENNINGS and JESSI COLTER made a quick return to the Riviera Hotel where they opened a limited one-week engagement on Jan. 8.

Jennings and Colter emerged as the "sleeper" act of the year when they appeared at the Riv in early December. Their three-night engagement was sold out a week before their opening.

"To tell the truth, I was a little apprehensive about that date," said Jennings. "I've played the Golden Nugget downtown, for several years and did real well. WILLIE (NELSON), KEVIN (KROGERS), and I played there a dozen times or more. But it's a little different up here on the Strip... I honestly didn't know what to expect."

"But folks are folks, and if they like you in one place, they seem to like you wherever you play. Now I've got a two-year deal at the Riviera and I'm sure it's going to work out just fine."

Maybe some hotel owner should offer STEVE WYNN, who owns the Golden Nugget, a job as entertainment director. It's obvious he has an eye for talent.

Will DEAN MARTIN and long-time ex-wife, JEANIE, be back together again soon? It seems that Dean has been singing sweetlove songs in her ear.

Neither of them is willing to confirm or deny that the two are romantically in love, but insiders are beginning to hum the wedding march.

World Of Music

By ROBIN WELLES

HOLLYWOOD — Fleetwood Mac has done about 300 shows in 13 countries since the release of their superb "Rumours" album in 1977.

Millions heard Mick Fleetwood, Lindsey Buckingham, Christine McVie, Stevie Nicks and John McVie during the touring that culminated in Los Angeles' Hollywood Bowl last Sept. 1.

Bits and pieces of the various concerts were taped and now are being released in a two-record "live" album that may challenge "Rumours" as a best-seller.

Commented drummer-manager Mick Fleetwood: "As far as I am concerned, I've never Fleetwood Mac was going to release a live album — and Fleetwood Mac has never done one in any form — it seemed to me that after a year on the road there was no better time."

"I doubt we will ever again do a tour that long and all-encompassing, and this is a way of documenting it."

There are three new songs on the LP: "Fireflies," "One More Night" and "The Farmer's Daughter" performed at the Civic Auditorium.

Wyman, Dennis Morgan. A young girl discovers that while honesty may be the best policy, it can also mean trouble.

⑥ MOVIE
"Charlie Chan's Murder Cruise" (1940) Sidney Toler, Robert Lowery. Charlie's scheme to apprehend a murderer aboard a luxury liner almost backfires.

rium in Santa Monica, Calif. The locations range from Cleveland to Las Cruces, from Tokyo to London.

"Actually, the album feels more interesting than if it was just one entire concert because there are lots of different atmospheres," said Fleetwood.

CAMEO — Feel Me (Casablanca) — The group has put together a highly successful blend of rhythm and blues and rock, plus some outstanding visual effects on stage. The overall impact is one of restless movement and high energy. Cameo is led by drummer Larry Blackmon who has been writing music since he was 14.

JON ANDERSON — Song of Seven (Atlantic) — Britisher Anderson started Yes in 1968 and has been its lead singer. He released his first solo album four years ago, and has been picking up fans of his easy rock style ever since.

WAR — The Music Band - Live (MCA) — Super rhythm group rolled up 10 platinum (million-sellers) and gold (500,000) albums in the 1970s. WAR is a fusion of rock, rhythm and blues, jazz and disco. Lonnie Jordan says:

"The main thing for us is to have fun and make people happy." That they do.

REO SPEEDWAGON — Hi Infidelity (CBS) — Another screamer from the exponents of granite-hard rock. REO churned out of Illinois a few years back and hasn't lost any energy along the way. The suction has swept up an increasing number of fans to REO concerts.

ROBERTA FLACK AND PEABO BRYSON — Live and More (Atlantic) — This is a perfect blend of talent. Flack and Bryson have been entrancing audience after audience in touring in 1980 and this two-record album wraps up some of the highlights of the concerts. Songs like "Feel the Fire" and "Killing Me Softly with His Song" were never handled better.

LOU RAWLS — Shades of Blue (Philadelphia International) — Rawls delivers a vocal with all the mastery of an artist who has developed his skill to the maximum. Like Sinatra, he's a master at phrasing a lyric. And his rich, deep voice knows how to coax the most out of a love lyric. A good man to sit back and listen to.
